

ROSWELL DAILY RECORD.

VOLUME 6.

ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 19, 1908

NUMBER 16

INSTITUTE TEAM WON

Six to one was the score of the baseball game between the Military Institute and Roswell town teams, played at Amusement Park yesterday afternoon; but the game was much closer than this score indicates. The game was so well fought on both sides that at no time was there any surety which was to be the winner until the last man was out in the ninth. It was the cadets who carried off the laurel.

Walker, the institute's new pitcher, was in the box and made good. Eight hits were made off of him, but some were scratchy and one was made by the close right field fence. At no time were they bunched. He passed none, hit no one, and struck out eight.

Foreman went into the box for the town team. In two innings he allowed but one hit, struck out four and passed two. The one hit, coupled with the passes and errors let in two runs, however. It was Foreman's first game, without practice, and he quit of his own accord, and Apolonio, of the Mexican team, went in the box, allowing nine hits, striking out three and passing two.

After the two scores by the cadets in the first inning, not a run was made on either side until the eighth, when a hit was followed by a stolen base and a two base hit.

In the ninth the cadets again scored, on a bunch of four hits, a base on balls, a stolen base and an error, running in three.

It was in the last half of the ninth that the town team made its run. Leland got a two base hit, advanced a base when Jones got down on an error, and scored on a scratch hit by Nelson.

The cadets played the closest, best game, making but two errors, but Fred Wilson of the town team, made the star record. He had ten chances with but one error, the latter coming in the ninth when he could have made a nice double but threw wild. Nelson and Elkins, of the High School team, did good work for the town team.

W. G. Hamilton acted as umpire, giving general satisfaction. In one or two instances his decisions on balls and strikes were greeted with a mild protest from the grand-stand, but he invariably showed his fair intentions by squaring it on another.

There were about a hundred present, and so well pleased with the game were they that they applauded the announcement that the same teams will play again Friday afternoon at three o'clock at the Institute grounds.

CHILDREN RESPONDED TO BREAD WAGON GONG.
One day this week the Star Bakery delivery wagon drove up in front of Central school, across the street from the building. The driver sounded his gong and unknowingly gave the proper signal for the children to practice their fire drill, which they have been practicing for some time. Before Superintendent Brasher could say "scat," or anything else, the children were all out in the yard, clear of any danger that might be in the building. It was a good joke on somebody, but it passed off as such without finding out who it was, and showed how the children would act in case of a real fire, giving great satisfaction.

THOMAS AND CARLTON WERE ELECTED ALRIGHT.
At the official recount of the Democratic city committee of the vote on alderman in the First and Fourth wards last night, held in the office of Dr. C. M. Yater, it was found that J. W. Thomas, of the First, and J. T. Carlton, of the Fourth, were elected, as announced. However, Mr. Thomas' majority was cut down to one vote, and Mr. Carlton's plurality was boosted to six. The vote in these two wards on alderman was as follows:
First:—Thomas, 54; Aken, 53.
Fourth:—Carlton, 54; Church, 48; Mueller, 9.
None of the other wards were recounted, there being no necessity for such action.

FLOOD AT PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, Pa., Mar. 19.—With surprising suddenness another flood of the rivers is being experienced in Pittsburg and vicinity. At ten o'clock this morning the stage reached the danger mark of 22 feet, and the water was still rising. According to the weather bureau a stage of 33 feet is expected tomorrow morning. This would lack only 3 1/2 feet of the great flood of March 15th last.

All the small streams are on a rampage today. Streets and cellars in the suburbs are flooded. Thousands of women and children are prisoners in their homes and the schools are lightly attended. The lowlands are inundated, and owing to the suddenness of the flood few persons are able to save valuable goods.

Early today a dredge belonging to the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company broke from its moorings above this city and started down the Allegheny river. The boat went over the government dam at Springdale, and it is not known whether or not the crew of five succeeded in escaping. The railroad schedules have been badly disarranged on account of high water and landslides.

Two Chinamen are believed to have perished, scores of persons are suffering from inhaling gas, eight places were either set fire or were scenes of explosions, and many persons narrowly escaped death early today as the result of a landslide which demolished the gas regulator house of the Manufacturers' Light and Heat Plant at Bon Aven suburb, causing a sudden heavy pressure of gas. Fire was first discovered in a Chinese laundry. The fire bells awakened practically every family in the suburb, who found their homes rapidly filling with gas, the flames shooting high from many stoves and gas jets, and the walls were blistered with excessive heat. In a number of cases incipient fires had already started before the gas could be shut off. The hot water boilers of several houses exploded.

TWO SUCCESSFUL SAINT PATRICK'S NIGHT SOCIALS.
The young people of the Methodist Episcopal church gave a poverty social on St. Patrick's night at the parsonage and home of their pastor, Rev. C. F. Lucas, on West Fifth street. About seventy young people were present, and the affair was a success in every respect, the proceeds being sufficient to buy new hymn books for the Epworth League. Every person who came dressed in any cloth more expensive than calico was subject to a fine, and these fines had to be paid by many. The wearin' of the grane was so general the entire party looked like a band of immigrants from the old sod. Supper was served in basket picnic style, the baskets being sold to the young men. All took their supper sitting on the floor. One feature of the evening's entertainment was a vocal duet by Miss Nell Allison and Mr. VanLandingham.

Mesdames C. C. Martin, A. C. Wilson, C. A. Baker, Robert Beers and Pierce were hostesses for a St. Patrick's tea and supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin on Alameda street and South Lea avenue on Tuesday evening. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with shamrocks, and the hostesses were in full Irish costume. Both the afternoon tea and evening supper were well patronized, and the ladies made a snug sum for the Ladies Society of the Presbyterian church, for which it was given.

MAN KILLED IN A RIOT

Cleveland, O., Mar. 19.—One man was fatally injured and a number of others seriously hurt in a riot near the plant of the American Steel and Wire Company in the southern outskirts of the city this morning. Fifty men crowded around the gates of the plant seeking employment, word having gone out that additional help would be taken on today. A quarrel started, following an attempt of those in the rear to get closer to the gate, and a general fight began, the men using stones and clubs. One man was armed with a revolver and shot down an opponent who struck him with a rock. At this juncture a patrol wagon arrived and the officers clubbed the rioters right and left. A number of the rioters were found lying unconscious on the ground when the men dispersed.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The superintendent and teachers were very much gratified at the splendid attendance of the patrons last Friday. They came throughout the day and witnessed the actual daily school work of their children. In this way a parent may be a just and intelligent judge of the school conditions to which his children are subjected. In this way the parents also give the teachers much encouragement and inspiration. We very much appreciate this practical manifestation of interest on the part of the patrons of Roswell in their public schools.

Miss Clark's Latin classes are going to have a splendid exhibit of essays, maps, examination papers, etc., for the exhibit at Albuquerque. One of her boys is going to build "Caesar's Bridge" for the exhibit.

The High School base ball team is under many obligations to the business men of the town for their liberal contribution toward the purchase of their suits. It was only through their liberality that the boys were enabled to purchase these suits.

Twenty-two boys were enrolled in regular attendance in Mr. Cottingham's room the first of the month. There are now 23 boys in regular attendance. The attendance on the part of the boys has been excellent during the entire year, and they are still interested in their work.

During this week the teachers are quite busy having their monthly written tests. The pupils are doing well in these tests.

Prof. Otto J. Radusch, of New York City, former professor of Modern Languages in Harvard University, visited the schools this week. He was well pleased with what he saw.

We are going to have a very busy commencement. There are a number of interesting events scheduled for this happy time.

The members of the graduating class have begun work on their class play, under the supervision of a trained elocutionist.

It has been decided to have an Alumni reception during commencement. An Alumni meeting will be called soon to perfect arrangements for same.

The Mayor, City Council and Fire Department witnessed one of our fire drills the other day. The children were put of the building in a minute and two seconds.

The Central boys are getting up two strong base ball teams. They are taking much interest in this healthy and manly sport.

Mrs. W. R. Smith took a group picture of the Eighth grade last week and presented each member of the class with one. Mrs. Smith is very much interested in this class, and has been very nice to them in a number of ways.

The regular monthly grade meetings are being held this week.

The primary teachers have under consideration methods of teaching language in their grades, and the grammar grade teachers methods of teaching geography.

WINTER AND SPRING IN NEW MEXICO.
Orville (Ohio) Courier.

Roswell, N. M., Mar. 5, 1908.

Dear Readers of the Courier:—Since I promised, in my first letter from Roswell to the Courier, to continue a description of this locality at some future time, I will now attempt to convey some idea to you of the general surrounding country, as it impressed me. Of course the first thing to be mentioned is the weather, as it is so lovely now, it cannot be ignored. We have now had a week of spring weather—no rain, but beautiful warm, sunny days. It is amazing what nature has done in those few days. The weeping willows, which form a goodly part of our shade here, are all in leaf, and their bright verdure is certainly pleasing to the eye. Peach and plum trees are now in blossom and people are preparing their gardens for planting.

The lawns, which have been kept watered all winter are pretty and green where planted in Kentucky blue grass. The other lawns have not as yet responded to the touch of spring. Vines and hardy plants are in leaf and hyacinths bloom in some of the yards.

This is certainly an excellent climate. We have had no severe weather at all during the winter, with no snow excepting a couple of little flurries not even coating the ground, which has not frozen at all this winter, a novel sight to northerners. There have been some sweeping winds and dust storms, but those have just lasted a part of the day, leaving a pleasant morning and calm evening.

Tourists are pouring in most of the time, mostly from Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and even Oklahoma and Texas land agents bringing parties here for permanent location and to investigate. For the person who has the money to invest in land, with enough extra to place an artesian well and get the land in an improved condition, this is certainly the place to come and make money, as there is plenty of land in an uncultivated state yet, the country around here being all prairie land.

The prettiest farming section lies south and east of Roswell, where there are some lovely country homes and fine orchards. The big Hagerman orchard, just six miles southeast of Roswell, from where train loads of apples are shipped every fall, employs a colony of helpers in picking time, people living out there in tents during the season. There are some lovely homes on the Hagerman ranch. The one occupied by ex-Governor Hagerman himself is especially fine, while those of the overseer and other helpers are beautiful homes with most all modern conveniences.

The fruit shipped from here commands high market prices, being so free from blemishes. Owing to late frosts last year the entire fruit crop was a failure in the Pecos Valley; but if nothing interferes this year the fruit crop will be the largest on record, owing to the fact the trees got. Last year was the first time there had ever been a complete failure of the fruit crop here. Ranch owners did not lose out entirely last year, as most of them have alfalfa, and this is by far the most profitable and most generally raised crop of the valley. This produced in nearly all cases four or five crops last year, from one to two tons per acre from each cutting, or a combined production of four to five tons a year per acre, selling from $7.50 to $12.00 per ton.
